IMPORTANT NOTES:

DRESS CODE: Dress should be casual but modest. For example, jeans or long shorts, t-shirts and tennis shoes. No cut-offs or short-shorts, belly shirts, sports bras with no shirt, or t-shirts with suggestive or violent language will be allowed. In order to respect others and to take the heat into consideration, we ask that you abide to the proper dress code. Some agencies require pants and closed toed shoes must be worn at all sites. Please make sure you pack both.

EXTRA CLOTHES: You might want to shower after serving in the community, so a second set of clothes may be needed for the rest of the evening. However, try to pack lightly since there are several participants sharing the sleeping space.

SHOWERS: The showers at the host facilities might be separate stalls or community style. Occasionally the showers are at an off-site location and your group would stop at showers on the way back to the host facility. You should bring a swim suit in case you need it.
(There is a shower schedule based upon age.)
