Notes:
• Please reserve a parking space near the church for the bishop’s car.
• Bishop Coyne will bring his own vestments. Please have a small table or counter clear for him to lay his travel case on.
• On the credence table, a bottle or glass of water is to be provided for use as necessary.
• When a GOSPEL BOOK IS USED: After the proclamation of the gospel by either the deacon or priest, he is not to reverence the book. The priest or deacon should invite the people to remain standing, and Gospel Book is brought to Bishop Coyne for his reverencing and blessing of the people. After the blessing, the Gospel Book is handed back to the priest or deacon to be set aside.
• At this time, communion will be offered only under the species of bread. Concelebrants will receive communion by intinction.
• There are to be no more than five (5) petitions of the Universal Prayer. They are to be clear and concise, following the form of the Intercessions in the appendix of the Roman Missal.
• The sign of peace will be offered.
• There are to be no kneelers set in front of the bishop during Communion. The normal position to receive Communion in the U.S. according to the GIRM is standing. If someone wishes to kneel, they may do so.
• When Mass is finished, Bishop Coyne will be outside or return to the inside of the church in front of the main altar for people to greet him. The lights are to be left on until he has greeted the last person and left the church.
